President Puts Murphy on Supreme Court

Robert H. Jackson Becomes
New Attorney General;
Biddle Moves Up

NAMES GO TO SENATE

F. D. Has Now Chosen Five
Members Of Tribunal
Comprised Of Nine

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 — President Roosevelt today appointed Frank Murphy to the United States Supreme Court and simultaneously named Solicitor Robert H. Jackson to the post of attorney general. To the job of solicitor general he appointed Francis Biddle who is now a judge of the third district Court of Appeals in Philadelphia.

Murphy who is only 46 and one of the youngest persons to ever be named to the high tribunal is known as an outstanding liberal. His appointment to the court gives it a further liberal color and New Deal complexion.

Since the President took office five vacancies have been created on the bench by death and resignation. The five persons he has named to the court include Justices Frankfurter, Douglas, Black, Reid and now Murphy.

Names Go to Senate
News of the three appointments was revealed when the President sent their names to the senate for confirmation where there is expected to be no opposition.

Murphy, a Catholic and Midwesterner, will fill the vacancy left by death of Justice Pierce Butler. The appointee has been serving as attorney general. He is a former Michigan governor.

Murphy has experienced a meteoric and often stormy public career. A former $5-a-week clerk, he began his public life as an assistant U. S. Attorney in Detroit after returning from overseas duty with the AEF in the World War. In that minor post, he won national attention by being the only federal prosecutor in the nation to convict wartime profiteers. He sent a couple of millionaires to jail and first learned of "pressure politics."

Elected in Detroit
His record as a prosecutor won him an election to the recorder's court in Detroit. He established many judicial reforms in the court, which served as a police magistracy. Operating under local statutes, he often sat as a "one-man grand jury" and brought about a cleanup of local conditions.

In 1930, he was elected mayor of Detroit at a time when the depression began to hit the motor city. More than 200,000 were out (Continued on Page Two)

SNOW EXPECTED AFTER MERCURY MOVES HIGHER

By International News Service
A brief respite from zero temperatures was forecast for Ohio today but snow was expected to take its place.

A warm wave was believed to be coming into the state from the Southwest. At Cincinnati, where a low of three above was recorded yesterday, the thermometer stood at 14 today.

Weather forecasters predicted slowly rising temperatures for today, followed by snow in the South and Southwest. Friday the temperature was again expected to drop slightly.

For the first time in years, the Ohio river was frozen over at Martins Ferry yesterday and at Cincinnati ice patrols were established to warn river traffic of floating ice. River traffic at the Queen city was not seriously impeded, however.

At Columbus, a low of four above was recorded this morning while a low of 6 above was recorded at Cleveland.
The state highway department reported all roads open to traffic with a light snow in Ashtabula County which is drifting. Temperatures range from 4 degrees below zero in Hocking County to a maximum of 20 above.

SHASTEEN FACES CHARGES FILED BY JAILED MAN

Alva Shasteen, North Pickaway Street, night patrolman on the Circleville police force, was scheduled to have a hearing in the court of B. T. Hedges, justice of peace, Thursday afternoon, on a charge of assault and battery. The charge was filed by Merle Thompson, 30, East Mound Street, who is in the county jail under a fine of $200 and costs assessed by Mayor W. B. Cady on a charge of resisting the patrolman. Thompson charges he was assaulted by the patrolman on December 30.

London Says Open Support In Campaign Against Finland Looms; Goering And
Himmler Reported To Be At Odds

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE
The London Daily Express reported from Amsterdam today that Germany is about to announce open support of Russia's invasion of Finland.
The Reich will withdraw diplomatic recognition from Finland, the paper said.
In addition, the diplomatic correspondent of the same paper pointed out that the United States is sending 44 war planes to Finland immediately.

The dispatch from Amsterdam said neutral observers believe German support for the Russian invasion will be announced following conversations between German Foreign Minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop and the Soviet minister to Berlin.

This move, said the Express, is regarded as the next step in the Hitler-Stalin program for subjugating Scandinavia.

If Germany officially breaks off relations with Finland, the dispatch added, the Reich is expected to go immediately to Russia's aid, lending experts to the U. S. S. R.

Germany furthermore blames the Anglo-French Allies for causing the Soviet invasion of Finland because of their interest in an attack on Germany from Scandinavia, the Express said.

Two Nazis Bitter
The London Daily Sketch reported from Amsterdam today that Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering, No. 2 Nazi, and German Secret Police Chief Heinrich Himmler quarreled violently in the presence of "several neutrals" at a private New Year's Eve party.
Only intervention of other guests prevented the pair from coming to blows, the report said.

French Offer Help?
The London Evening Standard said today that it understands a French military mission will go to Finland to ascertain the military needs of Baron Karl Mannerheim, commander of the Finnish defense forces.

The French will make specific inquiries as to Finland's arms and ammunition requirements, the paper said.

HOUSE TO VOTE CONTINUATION OF DIES COMMITTEE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 — Continuation of the Dies committee by the house "with not over 40 votes against it" was predicted today by Rep. Eugene Cox (D) of Georgia, ranking Democrat on the house rules committee, which will consider the resolution.
The issue, Cox indicated, will be thrust before the committee within the next two weeks.

"The Dies committee will be continued and there won't be over 40 votes against it in the house," said Cox. "The house also will give the committee ample funds to continue its investigation."

Despite indications that the house will back the committee, Chairman Sabath (D) of Illinois of the rules committee planned to hold hearings so that members could assail the proposal for continuation. The fight to kill the committee is expected to be led by Rep. Coffee (D) of Washington, leader of the progressive bloc of the house.

At Kiantajaervi

HELSINKI, Jan. 4—Severance of Soviet Russia's vital Leningrad-Murmansk railway line—her much-vaunted "path of victory" into Finland—was officially confirmed in Finnish military dispatches today.

The railway was heavily damaged, their messages asserted, and virtually "put out of use" by daring Finnish ski patrols cooperating with Finland's revived air force.

HELSINKI, Jan. 4 — Reports that Finnish warplanes and daring ski patrols have put the Soviet Leningrad-Murmansk railway "out of use" reached Helsinki today as bitterly cold weather once more halted most operations on the Polar and Salla battle fronts.

Although not officially confirmed, the advices that the important Russian supply rail line had been wrecked was partly substantiated by news that Russian trucks carrying provisions for the Red army units in the Far North were seen everywhere on the Soviet side of Finland's eastern frontier.

If true, this means that the Soviets have been forced to abandon attempts to use the railway to provision their already ill-equipped forces in the North and to resort to the more arduous task of trucking supplies over snow-filled highways.

CHICAGO, MIAMI CRIMINAL RINGS STUDIED BY U. S.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 — The Department of Justice is now engaged in major investigations of gambling, white slave traffic, political graft, election frauds and income tax violations in the Chicago and Miami areas, it was learned today on high authority.

An army of fifty Federal Bureau of Investigation agents are in Chicago, running down evidence for presentation to a federal grand jury there within the next few weeks. The agents are reported to have uncovered sufficient evidence already to justify indictments of politicians and policemen.

In Miami, the inquiry has only started. Thirty crack investigators are said to have been thrown into the noted Florida winter resort section. They are reported to have discovered evidence of gamblers and white slavers paying huge tributes to politicians in order to operate without police interference.

FRANK SHEEHAN RESIGNS AS PORTSMOUTH MANAGER

PORTSMOUTH, Jan. 4 — The Portsmouth city council today sought a successor to Frank E. Sheehan, city manager and director of the Portsmouth water works, who submitted his resignation, effective March 31.

Council accepted the resignation by a vote of four to one. The move forestalled a threatened ouster action by Councilman Russell Frizzell, who voted against acceptance of the resignation because of the late effective date. Sheehan has been a city employee for 20 years, serving the last eight years as city manager.

TAFT VOTES FOR FOUR NAZIS TRY STEWART, ENDS GETAWAY FROM CITY DEADLOCK URUGUAY PORT

CINCINNATI, Jan. 4—Cincinnati had a mayor today, Republican James G. Stewart who was reelected by a vote of Charles P. Taft, his Charterite opponent.

When Herbert S. Bigelow, Independent member of council and author of the recently defeated "50 to 60" pension plan, again refused to break a deadlock between the two candidates, Taft cast the deciding vote for Stewart. Cincinnati's council is made up of four Charterites, four Republicans and Bigelow, an independent.

Edward N. Waldvogel, Charterite, was elected vice mayor, defeating former vice mayor Nicholas Klein, Republican, when Bigelow cast his vote with the four Charter councilmen.

Taft said his surprise action was made "with the consent of my associates." The vote came after Bigelow ignored a plea of Charter Councilman Albert D. Cash to "choose and choose according to the dictates of your conscience, but choose now in the interest of the fair name of Cincinnati."

FINANCE CHIEF CITES BALANCE IN STATE FUNDS

COLUMBUS, Jan. 4—Increased revenue and curtailed operating costs enabled the administration of Governor Bricker to end 1939 with a surplus of $2,425,000, State Finance Director B. R. Bingham announced today.

The assertion was made in a preliminary report to Bricker after Auditor of State Joseph T. Ferguson, a Democrat, issued a statement contending that the Republican administration finished the year with a deficit of $880,000. Regarding the "surplus," Bingham said:

"It will aid in carrying the operation of the state government on its established pay-as-you-go basis during the ensuing two months and at the same time meet the February 28th's $12,500,000 school foundation obligation."

The finance director averred the surplus was made possible by increased revenues from various (Continued on Page Two)

BLONDE ENGLISH GIRL ARRIVES AT PARENTS' HOME

HIGH WYCOMBE, Buckinghamshire, Eng., Jan. 4—Heavily guarded by a special police detachment, the Hon. Unity Valkyrie Freeman-Mitford arrived at her family's residence here today from Folkestone.

Crowds milled around the gates to the mansion in the hope of seeing the blonde English beauty whose residence in Germany ended in some mysterious mishap. There were no demonstrations, however.

According to her father, Lord Redesdale, the 25-year-old girl whose "perfect Nordic beauty" aroused the admiration of Chancellor Hitler, was "still very ill," although there was some improvement in her condition today following her arduous trip by ambulance train and boat from the Reich.

The blonde beauty, wearing a bandage around her wounded neck, arrived here by boat yesterday and was transferred to an ambulance for the journey to her home. But the ambulance broke down 15 miles outside Folkestone and she was obliged to return and spend the night in a hotel.

TEACHERS ASK REPEAL OF LIMITATION ON LAND TAX

CLEVELAND, Jan. 4—Repeal of the 10-mill limitation in favor of the old 15-mill limit on real estate levies was asked today by the Ohio Federation of Teachers.

In a statement released today, the federation said that "the 10-mill limitation is at the bottom of the financial troubles which saw the closing of schools in Toledo, Dayton, Springfield and Cincinnati, and excessive difficulties in operating schools in many other Ohio communities."

NEW TAX PLANS VAGUE

Executive Urges Bill To Hit
Those Who Are Best
Able To Pay

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4—President Roosevelt today submitted an $8,424,191,570 budget for the 1941 fiscal year to congress along with a proposal for $460,000,000 in new taxes to meet mounting national defense costs.

Mr. Roosevelt's budget slashed work relief and agricultural benefit estimates by approximately a billion dollars under the current fiscal year and called for a $1,800,000,000 national defense program—a 20 percent increase over this year's expansion program.

The President made no specific recommendations as to what sources of revenue should be tapped for additional taxes, except to express the hope that congress would follow the principle of "taxing according to ability to pay," and that it would avoid taxes which would decrease consumer buying power.

For the seventh consecutive year, the chief executive proposed incurrence of a deficit—this time one of $2,176,231,570, the second smallest in New Deal history. The President based his budget on the following estimates:

1. Revenues estimated at $6,248,000,000, of which $5,548,000,000 would be derived from taxes (an amount $382,000,000 more than estimated for this year) and $700,000,000 from funds of federal emergency corporations which Mr. Roosevelt has asked be returned out of capital originally invested in them by the government.
2. Expenditures estimated at $8,424,191,570 (down $675,000,000 from the current year).
3. Agricultural benefit estimates cut to $903,000,000 from the $1,316,000,000 now being expended.
4. Work relief estimates reduced to $1,300,000,000 from the $1,800,000,000 being spent this year.
5. National defense estimates increased to $1,800,000,000 from the present outlay of $1,500,000,000.

Debt To New High
This budget, according to Mr. Roosevelt's schedules, would send the national debt to a new high of $44,938,577,622 by June 30, 1941, if congress scrupulously follows each of his recommendations—a big "if." In fact, observers said, it was an "if" budget throughout.

It was revealed that the President (Continued on Page Two)

OMAHA FLAMES HURT 15; THREE DEAD IN SOUTH

OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 4—Fifteen persons were injured, one critically, and more than 100 others were rescued in spectacular fashion early today by firemen who struggled in near-zero weather to extinguish a fire which swept through the eight-story Henshaw Hotel building in downtown Omaha.

Firemen carried some of the guests down ladders. Others jumped from first and second story windows. Still others were led through smoke-filled halls by rescuing firemen.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Jan. 4—Three persons were burned to death early today in St. Petersburg when fire consumed two residences.
The blaze was started, authorities said, when Eddie Roberts, 11, attempted to light a gasoline stove, and the stove exploded.
Besides the child, other victims of the fire was an elderly couple, identified as Mr. and Mrs. Reuben L. Mervin, both 74 years old, of Grass Lake, Mich.

FARM AID, WORK RELIEF SLASHED IN MONEY BILL

dent's program of expenditures would lack just $61,422,338 of reaching the present $45,000,000-000 legal debt limit if (1) congress does not exceed his estimates, if (2) it imposes the requested new taxes, and if (3) conditions do not require Mr. Roosevelt to ask additional outlays, a possibility frankly conceded by him in his message.

On the other hand, the budget would leave a campaign-year congress the alternative of increasing the debt limit if (a) it refuses to vote additional taxes, if (b) it increases the recommended outlays, or if (c) it votes unbudgeted expenditures, such as parity payments for farmers.

In a 3,600-word message accompanying his budget estimates, Mr. Roosevelt vigorously defended his fiscal policies and rapped critics who he said state a "deceptive half truth calculated to make our people apprehensive" when they "haldy" place the present national debt at $42,000,000,000.

Cash, Gold Reduce Debt

Regarding the debt, Mr. Roosevelt pointed out that the government has seven billion dollars in cash, gold holdings and a "proprietary interest" in government corporations "which reduces the net debt to 35 billion dollars."

"I propose," he said, regarding his future fiscal policy, "that we adopt the following course:

"We should count on actual increase in receipts from current taxes and a decrease in emergency expenditures and we should try to offset the unavoidable increase in expenditures for national defense by special tax receipts, and thus hope to secure, for the over-all picture, a gradual tapering off, rather than an abrupt cessation, of the deficit."

Mr. Roosevelt said that his reduced work relief estimates would cut to 1,350,000 the number of workers that can be employed—550,000 under the current monthly average—but expressed the hope that improving business will absorb the majority of these.

Likewise, the 1941 estimate will care for only 600,000 boys and girls under the National Youth Administration—a 15 percent reduction.

The President renewed a recommendation that congress capitalize certain federal projects that have proven self-liquidating, such as Boulder Dam and the Rural Electrification Administration. He proposed that the REA in the future borrow from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation rather than receive appropriations.

Mr. Roosevelt firmed at demands that the budget be balanced.

"I constantly marvel at the glib generalities... that if one has but the will to do so anybody can reduce government expenditures by vast sums sufficient immediately to 'balance the budget,'" the President said.

"It costs nothing to make such statements and they can be decorated to fit into the applause of many audiences."

Slap at Senator Taft

This was a direct slap at Senator Taft of Ohio, prominent Republican presidential possibility, who recently declared he could balance the budget, but offered no bill of particulars.

FIVE POINTS CHURCH MAY SELL PART OF PROPERTY

Trustees of the Five Points Christian Church filed a petition in Common Pleas Court Wednesday to sell some land to the Monroe Township Board of Education for use as a playground.

The petition explains that the church owns one and a fourth acres of land. This land, it points out, was conveyed to the church by Isaac Clifton and wife in 1891 and the deed contained the stipulation "and when no longer used for church purposes, by the Christian Church of Five Points, shall become the property of the Ohio State Conference of the Christian Church to be disposed of by the agent of that body."

The land to be sold amounts to .73 of an acre, the petition says. The sale price is listed at $200. Trustees who filed the action are J. E. Pitt, Cecil Coudy and John T. Davis.

HELSINKI HEARS SOLDIERS HAVE WRECKED RAILS

Leningrad-Murmansk Lines Out Of Order, Finnish Capital Informed

troop train was derailed on the main line of the Murmansk railway and that hundreds of Soviet soldiers were killed and injured.

Sabotage Hinted

Advices received in Helsinki said it was uncertain whether the wreck was the result of Finnish patrol activities or—as some persons believe—sabotage carried out by Russian enemies of the Soviet regime.

Meanwhile, military authorities said that while the Finns have been capturing great quantities of Russian arms, most of these are useless for anything save scrap.

They have been exposed to the cold and snow, it was stated, and damaged beyond any military usefulness. The only useful Russian arms taken are field guns.

Most of the Soviet warplanes captured by the Finns likewise have been damaged, authorities added, but the Finns are tearing them down and using them for spare parts.

Authorities confirmed that the Russians failed to cause any damage when they carried out an aerial bombardment of Abo yesterday, but revealed that between 16 and 24 Russian bombers attacked Tornea near the Swedish frontier.

Rail Bridge Damaged

Two of the Russian planes were reported to have been shot down, but it was believed that before they were dispersed the Russian planes seriously damaged a large railway bridge over the Kemi River.

Tornea is situated close to the Swedish border town of Haparanda. When the Russian aircraft approached Swedish planes as ordered to make sure the Russian fliers kept away from Swedish territory. At the approach of the Swedish planes, the Soviets retreated.

Finnish forces on the Eastern Front have trapped still another Soviet division near Kianta-jaervi, where one Red army "anchor division" already has been annihilated, military advices to Helsinki stated today.

At the same time it was reported reliably that Finnish airmen in the Far North attacked a Russian base at Linahamari with fast foreign bombing planes of a type not previously used by the Finns.

(In addition, according to a London Daily Mail dispatch from Stockholm, Finnish warplanes bombed and destroyed a Russian air base on the island of Oesel which was leased by Russia from Estonia under terms of the Russo-Estonian mutual aid pact.)

The raid on Linahamari was carried out by Finnish air units based in the Petsamo area, scene of a major Russian retreat in recent weeks. It was believed the planes used by the Finns may have been bombers recently imported from Italy or Great Britain.

Where Fire Took Lives Of Many In Minneapolis

All Persons Trapped In Hotel Flames Are Accounted For; Death Toll Fixed At 18

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 4—All persons who were in the Marlborough Hotel when it was gutted by fire early yesterday with a known death toll of 18 were believed to have been accounted for today.

Earlier, authorities had expressed fears for 29 persons whose whereabouts were not known. These residents of the hotel, an old, three-story brick building, were located during the night either with relatives or with neighbors, police said.

At the height of the fire, many of those forced to flee into the street in their nightclothes had sought refuge from the bitter cold of five degrees below zero, leading to confusion with a count of residents first was made.

Original estimates of the injured also were corrected today, police asserting that only 24 persons had required hospitalization. About 50 other persons suffered minor injuries, but were ministered to at the scene or later by Red Cross workers.

Many Hurt In Leaps

Some of those in hospitals were in critical condition, police said. Most of the injured had suffered burns, but many were hurt in jumps from the building, while others were overcome by smoke. Several firemen were injured, but only one seriously.

Fire officials speculated that the blaze may have started from a cigarette thrown into a interior rubbish chute, but all authorities emphasized that the cause could not be ascertained definitely until an investigation had been completed.

Although all persons were thought to be accounted for, police and firemen continued to search the ice-sheathed ruins, more for evidence as to the origin of the fire than in any belief additional bodies might be found.

The Marlborough Hotel contained 78 apartments, occupied chiefly by white collar workers who found its proximity to the downtown district convenient. Investigators said 114 persons were thought to have been in the building when the fire was discovered at 6 a. m.

Much Equipment Used

More than three-fourths of the city's fire equipment was called to the fire, which spread quickly, roaring up wooden stairs and trapping some occupants of the top floor. Fire Chief Walter W. King said he believed the reason the flames spread almost instantaneously was due to the generation of gas by smoldering rubbish in the chute. Presence of such gas, the chief said, would explain the statements of some survivors that the flames "seemed to shoot right out of the walls."

At the approach of an enemy a German craft, it seems, goes into a dive—even if it isn't a submarine.

of work and another half million persons in want. Murphy cut the city budget on the one hand but carried out his campaign pledge to keep all the unemployed from hunger. He was one of the first mayors to demand federal relief for the unemployed.

When the New Deal came to power, Murphy was given the difficult task of governor-general of the Philippines at a time when the natives were demanding independence. He performed it to the complete satisfaction of Americans and Filipinos.

With independence granted, Murphy became the first American high commissioner of the Philippines. He resigned this post in 1936 to run for governor of Michigan and was overwhelmingly elected.

Inaugurated January 1, 1937, Murphy immediately faced the problem of solving an epidemic of sit-down strikes—an epidemic that had started under his Republican predecessor. He settled the big strikes and got the men out of the factories without bloodshed or the loss of a single human life. He was defeated for reelection in 1938 amid criticism of his "rule of reason" in handling the sit-downers.

F. D. R. NAMES CROMWELL AS CANADIAN MINISTER

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4—President Roosevelt today nominated James H. R. Cromwell, New Jersey economist and husband of Doris Duke, the heiress, to be American minister to Canada.

At the same time, Mr. Roosevelt moved John Cudahy, American minister to Ireland up to ambassador to Belgium, succeeding Joseph E. Davies.

Pity the poor baseball players. Soon they will be torn from their snow and furnace shovels and sent into Florida exile.

is generally believed he would like a place on the ticket.

Farley, of course, cannot commit himself until President Roosevelt makes clear his attitude on the third term issue. Roosevelt has everybody guessing on that, including, no doubt, Farley.

A newspaper story this week indicated that the President, in talking to callers mentioned 68-year old Secretary of State Cordell Hull as a good man to succeed him as president, and intimating that a young and vigorous New Dealer might be named for second place on the ticket. Farley's name was not mentioned.

Those in the know say Farley cannot be this easily disposed of. He is a force to be reckoned with. More than any one else, Farley, as Roosevelt's campaign manager, has been responsible for putting Roosevelt in the White House in 1932 and 1936. Though he may have since differed privately with the President, Farley has been 100 percent loyal and never publicly has said a word against Roosevelt.

Friend Of All

Farley today has more conventional strength, according to political observers, than any man except Roosevelt. Certainly more than Hull, or even Vice-President John N. Garner. Farley, an adroit politician, has maintained his friendship with all factions. He is not at odds with Roosevelt, nor Hull, nor Garner.

Maybe that's why so many say that if Roosevelt takes himself out of the running, the 1940 ticket will be Hull and Farley.

CITY TO REQUIRE $122,260 TO RUN FOR NEXT YEAR

Appropriations Made For Additional Fireman And Policeman

COUNCIL HEARS FIGURES

Hot Water Tank, Chairs To Be Put In Engine House At Early Date

The annual appropriation ordinance allocating funds to various departments of the city for 1940 was passed by council Wednesday night.

The appropriations, totalling about $122,260 are approximately the same as those made for last year, Clerk Fred R. Nicholas announced. Although last year's appropriations totalled $107,844 it was explained that additional appropriations were made during the year and operation of the disposal plant became a new item of the city expenses. The city ended the year with over $5,000 in its general fund.

The funds allotted for 1940 for the disposal plant amount to $10,600. Other additional items are funds for salaries of an additional fireman and patrolman and some improvements for the fire department. In the fire department fund councilmen granted $65 for a hot water tank and $25 for chairs. It was explained that firemen have no means of having hot water when they return from fires. The chairs in the department have been used for years and are worn out.

The appropriations to the various departments, include: councilmen $864, incidentals $10; clerk $324, furniture and fixtures $100, stationery $10 and incidentals $10; mayor $900, incidentals $120.75; auditor $1,230, stationery $25 and incidentals $150; treasurer $400, bond $100, stationery $10 and incidentals $5; solicitor $700, clerk hire $100, stationery $50, incidentals $25 and law library $25; legal advertising $500; judicial expenses $25; Civil Service Commission $200; safety department director $600, special counsel $50, stationery $25 and incidentals $25; fire alarm system $250; police department police $9,360, stationery $25, incidentals $750, special police $750, police equipment $200, sustenance of prisoners $200, bicycle tags $100 and equipment $700; fire department, firemen $7,440, new chairs $25, gas stoves $35, hot water tank $65, incidentals $150, special firemen $250, fuel, light and supplies $150, fire equipment maintenance $775 and equipment and hose $750; outdoor relief $1,800; health department, officer $800, clerk hire $600, nurse $1,800, stationery $20 and incidentals $130; sanitary service, medical services $200 and medical supplies $100; service department, director $1,500, stationery $15 and incidentals $50; engineering $1,500; street lighting $7,092.12; public lands and buildings $5,100; water rentals $6,733.64; Berger Hospital $23,600; disposal plant $10,600; library $13,112.50; cemetery $130; street maintenance (funds from the gasoline and auto license tags) $17,550; firemen's pension fund $600 and police pension fund $1,200.

WISE FIXED CITY'S FIRE LOSS FOR '39 AT $25,932

Circleville's fire loss was listed at $25,932 for 1939 in a report filed with council Wednesday night by Fire Chief Talmer Wise. The report states that during the year 91 calls were answered. Three of them were false alarms. Four country runs were made by

CATTLE AND HOG PRICES LOW AT AUCTION SALE

Both cattle and hog prices were slightly lower Wednesday on the Circleville livestock auction as compared with the previous week.

No good cattle were listed on the sale. Good steers and heifers sold from $9 to $9.20. Harry J. Briggs, sales manager, reported the cattle market about 25 cents lower, grades considered.

Good to choice hogs sold from $5.75 to $6.10. Last week's top was $6.25.

the department. Twelve calls were answered by Chief Talmer Wise in his own truck. The city's fire loss in 1938 was $15,225 with a total of 74 runs, eight of them out of town. The loss in 1937 was $365, lowest that had been recorded in 12 years. The runs recorded during the last year were the largest in the history of the department, firemen said, the previous record being 84.

ASHVILLE By S. D. Fridley, Ashville, Phone 79

For one person to be secretary of a bank for 34 years and cashier of the same institution for 29 of these, is something different and unusual and fits into the news class. Our long time friend Emmuel Snyder was a part of the organization force which founded the local Ashville Banking Co. in June, 1906, and was chosen by the board of directors, F. J. Peters, J. M. Borror, R. G. Peters, Joseph Baum, Irvin Snyder, Samuel Hall, James Valentine, William Wright as secretary and cashier. He yet retains the secretaryship, but because of the duties being too onerous, gave up the cashier's place five years ago, being succeeded by the present cashier, Oscar Willis. The first three of the directors named here and including Mr. Snyder are four of the original nine yet living with Mr. Peters, the first president, in his 92 years of age. But what we had in mind to tell when we began this bank item, was that next Wednesday is bank director day and a general accounting of the business transacted for the year past.

Postmaster Smith has kindly given us a few figures concerning the amount of business transacted at the local office for the last three months of the year just closed. Number of special delivery letters and packages, 105; number of money orders written, 1364; amount of money received for these orders including fees, $10,681.66; money orders paid for the quarter, 391; (of these, 195 were to J. L. Baum secretary of the Pickaway Fire Mutual). Amount to general accounting office, $9,830.38; stamp sales, $1,921.23; most stamps sold in a single day, just before Christmas, $91.31, mostly of the 1½ cent kind. Number of boxes rented, 227. Very soon Mr. Smith will give us a business transacted comparison sheet for the years 1938-39.

The venerable B. S. Custer came to town Wednesday from his home up in Mt. Kisco near Marcy and brought with him Squire John White and Township Clerk Erroll Decker. Said it is very quiet up there now since the township election is over but everybody is looking forward to the 1940 big political doings. Madison, they said, may have a candidate or so for some of the county official vacancies. None, though, to their knowledge has announced yet. But best news of all they told us, Don and Mrs. Swoyer, the Marcy store proprietors, have a new boy born at Grant Hospital a few days ago.

Harry Margulis and Charles Higley who have been trying out the balmy breezes of southern Florida for several days, are expected home now soon. . . . Ed. Ett, the old reliable butcher, is out in the country now most every day as head pork and sausage maker. He has been at it for these many years and says he knows how.

MAY ADD OPERATOR
The ordinance providing for an additional operator at the municipal disposal plant, making a total of four, was given a second reading in council Wednesday night. An additional employee has been used at the plant for some time.

AT THE CLIFTONA

Robert Taylor and Greer Garson with Lew Ayres in "Remember?" This is the season's most popular and timely romantic teaming of stars in a gay comedy of married life today, which opens next Sunday at the Cliftona Theatre for an engagement of three days. Ever since her introduction to motion picture audiences in "Goodbye, Mr.

Chips," a search has been made for a story that would reveal Miss Garson's talent for comedy as well as drama. It was found in an original story by Corey Ford, national magazine writer, and Norman Z. McLeod who also directed the film. Brightly modern, with New York as its action background, it was written especially for Taylor, Miss Garson and Ayres. While it is highlighted with sparkling dialogues and amusing comedy situations, the picture has a serious and warmly human theme running through it. Briefly, it deals with two young people who fall in love "at sight." Married in haste, their romance is threatened by misunderstandings. Too proud to admit that they are still in love, they are divorced. Then, by a surprising twist of the plot, they get a second chance and this time make the most of it.

let the law lapse quietly and then next year, if the Democrats continue in power, it will be much easier, with no election in the offing, to re-enact it. If the Democrats don't win then it won't make any difference anyway.
Such strategy, the inner circles point out, will not only circumvent the GOPers who are eagerly whetting their knives to go after the Act, but far more important, will keep the dynamite-loaded issue out of the fall campaign.
It's a good bet that this is exactly what will happen, barring unforeseen developments.

POLITICAL GO-ROUND

After six years of advocating his economic and fiscal theories before committees of Congress as an appointive official, Federal Reserve Board Chairman Marriner Eccles is quietly weighing a different method to get action—namely by becoming a member of Congress. The one-time leading Utah banker has reached no decision as yet, but he may run for the Senate next year against the veteran anti-New Deal Democratic Senator William King. Both men are Mormons. . . . Also reported to be harboring secret senatorial ambitions is Arthur Hyde, Secretary of Agriculture in the Hoover cabinet, who may seek the Republican nomination for the seat now held by Missouri's Democratic Senator Harry Truman. . . . They don't know it yet, but 140,000 union officials throughout the country will soon get a pamphlet painting in glowing terms the labor record of Democratic presidential aspirant Paul McNutt. UNIQUE CUSTOMER

Believe it or not, but Wendell Willkie, No. 1 utility foe of New Deal power policies, is a patron of the Rural Electrification Administration in Indiana.

Willkie, whose Commonwealth and Southern Corporation made legal history by opposing the TVA, is a member of the Rush County Rural Electric Membership Corporation in southeastern Indiana, one of the most thriving farmers' REA units.

Willkie owns three farms in Rush County and when the REA cooperative was organized, became a member in order to obtain for his farms the electricity that the privately owned S. E. Indiana Power Company, from which the co-op buys its current, had not previously made available.

Other members of the co-op are Representative Raymond Springer, Republican, ex-Representative Finly Gray, Democrat, whom Springer defeated, and Robert W. Lyons, owners of the international champion Percheron horse.

CONGRESS AGAIN

CONGRESS meets, and our leading national pursuit is resumed as usual—perhaps more than usual. That is, of course, politics. The opening guns are being fired for the fall election, and there will be no surcease until then. And, to be realistic, maybe not even then.

This quadrennial festival is a terrible thing if you look at it from any rational viewpoint. Say the viewpoint of a psychologist or a business man or philosopher. There is usually so much emotion and so little logic, so much insistence on unimportant things, so much emphasis on personalities and parties and so little on the fundamentals of government and economics! Citizens with analytic minds, removed a little from the battle, get annoyed and discouraged by all the sound and fury.

Yet it's the way we are, and perhaps the way we have to be if we intend to preserve freedom and opportunity in this country—as we do. And by some miracle or other, it usually seems to work out pretty well in the long run. Most of the evils anticipated never happen, or else we wake up in time and do the right thing at the last minute.

Democracy is always saving itself on the edge of a cliff, while patent systems of autocratic ideology go over. And the people we put into offices of vast power and responsibility usually do better than could have been expected. So we keep moving ahead in spite of everything. Perhaps the Lord takes care of us in spite of ourselves.

So hoch Congress! And viva the President! And Hurray for the Supreme Court! And may politics stop, as usual, at the water's edge.

GERMANY'S TROUBLES

GERMANY is warned by the Nazi leaders to expect a hard year. And at the same time they are told that all their troubles come from the Jews and the English. Except for them, it seems, Germany would have a happy and prosperous year.

This anti-Jewish business is, of course, merely a renewal of Adolf Hitler's pet phobia, a subject on which he seems considerably less than sane. A veteran American correspondent, Carl Von Wiegand, has told how, when he once asked the Fuehrer what the latter had against the Jews, Hitler ran around the room shrieking incoherently. The tragedy of it is that one man's twisted mind could bring such vast sorrow and suffering upon millions of innocent people.

As for England, the world outside of Nazi Germany, at least, knows how the Chamberlain government pursued its peace policy almost to the point of self-

Daily Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON AND ROBERT S. ALLEN,

FIGHTS WILL KEEP CONGRESS

WASHINGTON—Those optimistic statements about a short session of Congress are a lot of wishful thinking. The boys will still be on hand when June 1 rolls around.

One reason is that there is no need for them to hurry to get through. The presidential convention won't take place this year until late July and early August. The other reason is that the shadow of the momentous fall campaign will dominate everything said and done on Capitol Hill and the session is a cinch to be one of the most acrimonious and politics-ridden in years.

There will be fierce fighting over the Wagner Labor and Wage-Hour Acts, over Secretary Wallace's demand for some form of processing tax to finance the $300,000,000 farm parity payments, over Cordell Hull's reciprocal trade treaties and above all over the slashed budget.

It's on this last issue that you will see party lines crumble and the boys, despite all their brave economy talk and other lofty sentiments, rally together to save their pork.

For there's political murder in that thar budget.

The boys don't know it yet but Roosevelt has ripped $45,000,000 out of the flood control appropriation, whittling it down from $115,000,000 to $70,000,000. The cries of anguish that will go up when this is discovered will rend the heavens from New England to California and from Michigan to Texas. At least two-thirds of the members of both chambers have local stakes in this appropriation, to say nothing of hundreds of contractors and thousands of workers, and with an election in the offing you can bet your boots the boys are going to leave no stone unturned to get their pork.

If they don't, it may mean curtains for them in November. The flood control item is just one of a number that got the axe. The highway appropriation, another prime local pork favorite, was riddled. When Roosevelt merely recommended that last year, Congress nearly had a fit. The boys will jump out of their skins when they see what he actually did to the appropriation this time.

Nope, the session will not be short and there will be little harmony. The cards are stacked for a long and strife-filled engagement.

RUN-OUT

There is one big battle, however, that may not take place.

It's an inner circle secret but some of the President's closest advisers are strongly urging him to duck the trade treaty fight.

The Act expires this year but the pact negotiated under it continue until they terminate. Practically all the important treaties have been consummated. So the inside boys are counselling the President to destruction before it saw the peril and began to arm in self-defense.

The war might be ended even now, before it has well begun, if the truth could be spread before the German people. But there is little hope of that under the Nazi dictatorship.

DIET AND HEALTH

Carrots for Safer Driving at Night

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Can you tell me why a friend of mine who has had several accidents driving at night was advised to eat carrots?

I presume his adviser thought your friend was suffering from night blindness. This is supposed to be due to a deficiency of vitamin A. Vitamin A is contained in vegetables which have a yellowish color—

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

carrots, corn, squash, pumpkin, etc. The chemical substance in these colored vegetables turns into vitamin A after being absorbed in the human body. It is called "carotene."

For those who really suffer from night blindness, carotene sharpens the vision and enables a person to see better in the dark. At any rate, the juice of the carrot can certainly be advised for the motorist at night over the juice of the grape.

Heparin, Aid to Coagulation

What is the nature and what are the uses of the new drug, heparin?

Heparin is a natural anti-coagulant. It increases the coagulation time of the blood up to 15 or 20 minutes after the exact time of coagulation can be controlled by giving proper amounts of the drug.

Its principal use so far has been for patients before or shortly after operation, in order to prevent post-operative accidents due to coagulation of the blood in the blood vessels (thrombosis).

In a selected series of cases requiring extensive and severe surgery, it was found that two and one-half per cent of the patients suffered from thrombosis without the use of heparin, while a control series, in which heparin was given, showed an incidence of only a little less than one-half of one per cent. It is also used in plebitis, a condition in which a clot forms in the veins of the leg, and it has been found quite useful.

Sobriety Test For Motorists

What is the chemical reaction of the common sobriety test used by police to test motorists?

The question states that "A friend of mine recently was taken to a police station and required to undergo a sobriety test before he was released. He said that he had to breathe into a glass tube connected with a bottle filled with a colored liquid. His breath bubbled through the liquid. He understood that if the liquid changed color it would be a positive test and would indicate that he was under the influence of alcohol."

The test as described is a colorimetric test to detect minute traces of alcohol. The colored fluid is potassium permanganate, and the test depends upon the principle of the reduction of alcohol by potassium permanganate in the presence of sulphuric acid. Alcohol would decolor the fluid. It is a relatively delicate test. Minute amounts of alcohol are present in the breath and are retained in the mouth when a person has been drinking. This trace appears in the breath.

Confidentially, however, the test is fairly easy to beat. Three or four deep breaths and four or five sallows or a drink of water will clear the breath and the mouth of all except the most minute traces of alcohol. If a suspected motorist is not alert enough to take this precaution, he deserves to flunk his sobriety test.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Clendening has seven pamphlets which can be obtained by readers. Each pamphlet sells for 10 cents. For any one pamphlet desired, send 10 cents in coin, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of this paper. The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks' Reducing Diet," "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene" and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

"TELL BILL GOODBYE"

WRITTEN FOR AND RELEASED BY CENTRAL PRESS ASSOCIATION

By Marie Blizard

CHAPTER FORTY-TWO

IT WAS too fantastic. Only a few moments before, Fabienne had hoped there would be no one to see her slipping up stairs to look in on Sonny Parsons. Now with him, bundled in blankets, cradled in her arms, she would have given anything in the world to have someone find them. It was, seemingly, a deserted hospital in which they made a strange group.

"You can't take a sick child out into a night as cold as this," Fabienne said, hoping to appeal to Chris' instinct.

"He's not sick any more. The doctor said he was going to discharge him tomorrow. I've dressed him warmly."

The child in Fabienne's arms stirred restlessly. He was hot and uncomfortable. Any moment he would awake. Let him, Fabienne thought wildly. Let him cry out as she could not!

No, she couldn't, because, for all that she was well aware of the wrong in what was being done, Chris' story of persecution and injustice had affected her deeply. Perhaps Christine was not mad. Perhaps there was right in what she was doing. If she believed that Larry would come soon and help her, Fabienne thought, Chris was doing no different than she would have done herself. There are things that are beyond such a law as gave the custody of Chris' child to his father and into the care of a grandfather who wanted to deprive him of his mother's love.

Christine said, "I don't like to say this to you, Fab. You'll have to forgive me for being melodramatic. I—I've got a gun."

She pressed the elevator bell while Fab stared at her, unable to believe her own ears.

"It's in here," Chris said, indicating her pocket, as if she were talking about a handkerchief. "Don't say anything to anyone as we go out."

"But suppose someone asks me where we're going?" she said, wishing that her brain didn't go completely numb in the face of the first real occasion she'd had for using it.

"I've thought it all out. You say, 'This is the case Dr. Mallory spoke to you about. He was coming to bring the baby to his mother, but he was delayed and sent me to take him with Mrs. Parsons.'"

"Chris, I can't. Don't you realize what this means? We can both go to prison—"

"Did you ever hear of a mother going to prison for kidnapping her own child?" Chris asked calmly. Indeed it was suddenly a new Chris, not the distraught, shaking girl of the afternoon. She was completely calm, mistress of the situation. It was Fabienne whose teeth were chattering with nervousness when the elevator came up.

Robert wasn't very bright, but he was bright enough to know that there was something irregular about a child being taken from the hospital at that hour. His face showed his struggle to become articulate about it.

Fabienne said, "It's all right, Robert. Dr. Mallory discharged this case today. His mother's only just come for him. We're taking him home."

Out in the cold street, she held the child closer to her.

"My car is up the street," Chris said. "Give him to me now. I'm going to drive him to Boston. Mother's there. She'll put me up."

Fabienne said, "Get in my car. It's the coupe ahead of yours. You can't take a child anywhere in an open car tonight." She had completely given up trying to decide whether this was right or wrong.

Christine got into the car and

Fabienne placed the still sleeping child in her arms. She ran around and got in the other side and started the motor.

When it was running but the car not yet in motion, she said, "This is a desperate thing, Chris, and heaven only knows what'll happen to us, but I seem to be in it now."

"Stay on the East Side and take the Bronx River parkway," Chris directed.

"We'll never get to Boston tonight. We're mad! As soon as the nurse discovers Sonny is gone, she'll send for the police and they'll get us before we're out of the state!"

"Drive fast," Chris said, bending lovingly over her child, cradling it hungrily.

Chris met few cars on the road, and when she got on the parkway she opened up, driving sixty miles and more an hour. "Don't you know that your mother's place is the first place they'll look for you?"

"I won't let them find me until Larry gets back. I'll find a way. I won't let you turn back now, Fabienne. If you turn me and Sonny over to the police, I'll kill myself. I don't want to live without Sonny. My life has been hell for two years. This is my chance to save our happiness."

After that, Fabienne fell into deep silence, driving steadily, keeping her eyes on the road, her ear attuned for the sound of a motorcycle.

Christine coughed two or three times and turned the collar of her coat up around her ears.

Fabienne looked at her anxiously, a new fear beginning to tug at her. As if she did not have enough to worry about with a lifetime sentence in prison ahead of her, now there was Chris' health to worry her. Chris' cough was sharp and in the light from the dashboard she could see the bright spots of color on her cheeks.

"They had to stop once for Sonny," she instructed.

"Can you get a glass of water? I'm awfully thirsty," Chris said, and began to cough again.

Fabienne got the water and brought it back to her. When their hands touched, it was like touching burning coal. Christine had a fever.

"Oh, Lord," Fabienne prayed, "I haven't asked much of you. I don't know how to say prayers, but please help me to do SOMETHING! I don't know what to do. Please tell me what to do and I'll do anything you ever ask of me again."

It was the first prayer Fabienne ever had voiced.

And it was immediately answered. Suddenly she KNEW what to do. It was as clear as if it had been written on the windshield before her, where big white snowflakes were beginning to cling. The storm she had feared was coming.

She turned off on a side road at Stamford.

Instantly, Chris said, "Stay on the parkway."

"No, Chris. I've got a better idea. I know where we can go and be safe. We would not be safe in Boston. We'll be where we're going shortly and you and Sonny can be put to bed and kept warm. No one in the world would ever think of looking for us there."

"Where?" Chris asked, a guarded but alert tone in her voice which had become raspy.

"A friend of mine has a little house he uses in the summertime. It's between Stepien and Newtown."

There wasn't anything else she could do that night, but in the morning she could telephone Bill and have him come out. Bill's broad shoulders could take on bigger burdens than this.

She said no more, devoting herself to difficult driving, leaning her head out of the window to find the road she had traveled but twice. The snow was getting thicker and she could scarcely see the road ahead of her.

For some time she thought that she was lost. Then she saw the big red barns at the corner where the road crossed the state road met. Bill's house was half a mile down the side road.

When they got there and she parked the car, she found she could hardly stand. "A fine pair of kidnapers we are," she said, lifting Sonny from Chris' arms. "I hope this snow is over by morning."

Today's Horoscope

Gain will come to today's birthday children through higher-ups, or those in authority. A secret matter also will benefit them. They should be on their guard against undue extravagance, and not lightly change their affections. A child born today will be clever, forceful and full of initiative. He or she will, however, to offset these desirable qualities, be liable to unexpected trouble in love affairs, and should constantly be on guard against secret enemies.

PAGES from the Diary of an Antiquated Reporter:

Up to another morning of Winter, the kind that brings joy to youngsters who received sleds, skates and skis for Christmas. But I don't care too much about it. To the post and then out over the paves, hearing rumors of several important real estate deals and possibly a new business or two for the ville.

Chatted with Lawrence Goeller who proves every time that I see him that there is something new under the sun. Now, he is making a flashlight to be worn on dogs' collars and another to be worn on persons' shoes. Understand that some cities now prohibit dogs running loose at night unless they wear flashlights. No, it is not a tail light, but a light to be fastened onto the dog's harness. Ate one of a quartet of great apples brought to me by Kenny Helwagen, he having received them in a Christmas shipment from Oregon. Fine apples are grown out there. These were of the delicious variety and truly lived up to their name.

Heard about the old grocer who wore shoes about four sizes too small. All day he hobbled about the store with a pained expression on his face. A salesman asked him why he wore such shoes and he replied, "Well, a Kroger store operates on one side of me, the A & P on the other, a Piggy Wiggly just across the street. The only pleasure I get in life any more is going home at night and taking off these dot and dash shoes."

Unless the temperature climbs that big bonfire tomorrow night should feel just about right. That even intrigues me, for I think it one of the most interesting hereabouts in a long time. Everyone should be there, and probably will be.

Attended the Chamber of Commerce meeting and learned that a real program of activity is being mapped out for 1940. And if it is not carried out in detail the blame can not be laid to the present active members of the organization. Too many men are inclined to sit on the sidelines and be critical of those who are doing their level best for the community. I have heard many complaints about the C. of C., but every one of them has come from men who never are seen at a meeting and who do not even belong to the organization. Those critics are all good business men, men keenly interested in betterment of the community and they should belong to the Chamber of Commerce and help bring about the accomplishments they desire. They could do it.

Our Chamber of Commerce should have a membership of at least 150. With an organization of that kind and with all members taking an active part then the Chamber really could go places. Nothing could stop it in achieving any goal it sets. Why not add to your list of New Year resolutions another one that you men will join the Chamber this year, give it some of your time and thought and help it really boost this community. That would mean money in your pocket and additional pride in your community. Think it over.

SPARRING MATE OF BILLY CONN IS NEAR DEATH

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 4—Physicians today feared for the life of handsome James Riggs Lindsay, 24, because of a blood clot at the rear of his brain presumably suffered when Light-Heavyweight Champion Billy Conn sparred with him in the Pittsburgh Lyceum.

Lindsay's sister, Mrs. Mabel Grelle, 22, said that her brother had been sparring with Conn for several weeks since his return here from Florida.

According to Mrs. Grelle, Conn, preparing for a non-title heavy-weight match with Henry Cooper in Madison Square Garden, New York, next Wednesday, let loose a sharp blow to the head. Lindsay, his sister continued, apparently shook it off.

The day before Christmas, however, he complained of a headache, she said, and by Monday his condition was so bad that he was removed to a hospital. Physicians said his spine has been tapped to relieve the pressure on the brain.

Young Lindsay's wife, Virginia, 20, half of the Broadway sister dance team of Betty and Virginia Pearson, who was reported to have left her show in New York last night for Chicago, reportedly did not know her husband lay on the brink of death in Pittsburgh.

Only last November Jim and Virginia eloped to Winchester, Va. In his dazed condition, the youthful sparring partner calls for his wife, or for a letter from her.

Tragically enough, the letter for which Jim had waited for has lain beside his hospital bed for several days. Occasionally his mother, Mrs. Cora Edwards, picks it up and starts to read. But Jim doesn't seem to hear.

He is hanging desperately on to life, while physicians watch the ominous blood clot at the rear of his brain.

OHIO U. CONTINUING ITS SUCCESS THROUGH EAST

COLUMBUS, Jan. 4—Ohio University continued its successful basketball swing through the East today after edging Scranton at Pennsylvania city, 50 to 45.

Penn States invaded Kent and walloped the states, 36 to 21. An old rivalry between Miami and Dayton was resumed at Oxford with Miami coming out on the long end of a 40 to 35 score.

At Mt. Union, Case went down to defeat before a determined Mounty attack, 36 to 35. Across the river at Huntington, Marshall swamped Roanoke, 53 to 27.

Tonight's games: Ball State at Akron; Bowling Green at Michigan Normal; Marietta vs. Alumn; Western Michigan at Ohio Wesleyan; Ohio U. at Baltimore; Toledo Desales at Calvin.

GUARDS IN AGE ROLES FOR OHIO

COLUMBUS, Jan. 4 — Hopes for a successful season for Ohio State's cagers flamed again today as the Bucks, smarting under successive defeats at the hands of Kentucky, Pittsburgh and Cornell, rose from the depths to hand California the short end of a 49 to 45 upset.

With a pair of guards, Capt. Bob Lynch and unheralded Jed Mees, scoring 33 points between them, the Scarlet for the first time in weeks exhibited the smoothness that brought them the Big Ten crown last season. Mees bucketed 17 points while Captain Lynch looped 16.

The highly-touted Bears lived up to expectations, but the Ohioans functioned like last year's champions and held a slim 27 to 25 margin at half-time.

A fist fight between George Jung of California and Johnny Schick enlivened proceedings in the late stages of the game.

Ohio State opens its Big Ten season Saturday against Michigan at Ann Arbor.

DEMPSEY PLANS TO PROMOTE BIG FIGHT IN SOUTH

NEW YORK, Jan. 4 — Jack Dempsey, erstwhile heavyweight champion, now a much sought-after referee, and from time to time a promoter, will try his hand at the latter again next month with a 12-round fight between Bob Pastor and Red Burman at Miami.

Dempsey announced today that he would fly to Florida tomorrow to complete plans for the heavy-weight battle, which will be held on February 26, according to tentative plans. Preparations will be made to take care of a crowd of 20,000, Dempsey said, although the site is so arranged that this could be increased if necessary.

Chief importance of the bout rests in the fact that Pastor is gunning for a third bout with Champion Joe Louis, after two previous meetings in which he lost a decision in 10 rounds and was knocked out in 11. Burman is an in-and-out who was the last to

THE AWFUL PRICE YOU PAY FOR BEING NERVOUS

Read These Important Facts!

Quivering nerves can make you old, haggard, cranky—can make your life a nightmare of jealousy, self pity and "the blues."

Often such nervousness is due to female functional disorders. So take famous Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to help calm unstrung nerves and lessen functional "irregularities." For over 50 years relieving Pinkham's Compound has helped tens of thousands of grandmothers, mothers and daughters "in time of need."

Pinkham's Compound positively contains no opiates or habit forming ingredients—it is made from nature's own wholesome roots and herbs each with its own special work to perform. One of the most effective "woman's" tonics made! In liquid or handy to carry tablet form (similar formula). Try it!

JURY SELECTED TO HEAR TRIAL OF FRED MOORE

LANCASTER, Jan. 4 — The jury of 10 men and two women was to be taken today to the Pickerington of Fred C. Moore, 57-year-old power plant foreman, who is charged with fatally shooting his 52-year-old wife and throwing her body in a bedroom closet.

The jury with its woman alternate was seated late yesterday, and will hear opening arguments this afternoon after visiting the home where Mrs. Moore's body, shot twice and garroted with a scarf, was found May 18 under a pile of bed clothes.

Moore, arrested two days later at Massillon, was indicted for the crime.

The prosecution will introduce evidence to show that a .38-caliber revolver was found in the seat of Moore's car. Moore contended that he left his home before his wife's death to visit a relative in Canton or Kenton.

Fairfield County Sheriff William Belhorn said that Moore and his wife quarreled over visits to a Columbus spiritualist.

PIRATES SIGN TWO

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 4 — The number of Pittsburgh Pirates in the fold for '40 jumped to five today when Bill Benswanger, president of the club, announced the signing of two more players — First Baseman Elbie Fletcher and Outfielder Maurice Van Robays.

beat Tommy Farr here and the first to lose to the Welsh heavy in a return match when the latter went back to England.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Many of these gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Hoover Maps Big Sports Shows To Benefit Finns

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—Former President Herbert Hoover and a group of sports writers will meet today to map a nation-wide sports program that it is hoped will raise at least $300,000 for the relief of war-torn Finland.

This relief drive will enlist the services of the great professional and amateur stars in various sports and it is expected that through the influence of the former president several world-famed foreign stars may be freed from military service long enough to compete here.

Tennis will be high up on the program and it is hoped that this relief drive will be the medium of bringing about a sanctioned open tournament with such stars as Bill Tilden, Don Budge and Ellsworth Vines from the pro ranks competing against Bobby Riggs, Frankie Parker, Elwood Cooke and other famous amateurs in Madison Square Garden.

Such an evening's entertainment would net the fund at least $50,000.

Another highly favored plan would bring Taisto Maki, the Finn who is admittedly the greatest distance runner the world has ever seen, to this country with Paavo Nurmi to compete in a series of track and field meets in cities where Paavo did some of his greatest running years ago.

Boxing, of course, will form part of the program, and the services of Mike Jacobs will be enlisted to stage a major fight. Mike had planned to put on a bout between Max Baer and Tony Galento in Miami. But with ex-President Hoover's influence available, Mike hopes that the local boxing commission might be induced to lift a more or less informal ban on Galento and permit the fight to be held here.

REDS TRADE LEE GRISSOM TO NEW YORK YANKEES

Cincinnati Gets Joe Beggs From Newark; Champions Trying To Strengthen

By Lawton Carver

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—Having been deprived of the right to make player trades in their own league, the New York Yankees announced today that they had reached over into the National League and captured for themselves Lefty Lee Grissom, the Cincinnati Reds relief pitcher. Just how Grissom will be fitted into the Yankee scheme of things must remain problematical for the time being, but that isn't important anyhow. More to the point is the fact that the Yankees have obtained a major leaguer in exchange for no more valuable chattels than Joe Beggs, the right-hander on the Yanks' Newark farm.

Grissom appeared in 33 games last season as the Reds began their way toward the National League pennant, then he made a brief appearance on the mound for the Reds against the Yanks in the World Series, finishing the year with nine wins and seven losses. Beggs won 12 and lost 10 at Newark.

This is not one of those three-star special transactions on which depend the outcome of pennant races, and in the general baseball shuffle may soon be forgotten. However, the deal may carry with it the significant indication that despite legislation designed to curtail their trading the Yankees are going to do the very best they can from time to time to maintain their strength, and with that their domination of baseball.

Grissom Potential

While Grissom has not been great, he is a potentially good man for the Yankees with their fine fielding and fulsome run-making and about as able a man as they can get under the new rules.

He's a Texan now living in California, stands six feet two, weighs 200 pounds and is 27 years old. If Lefty Gomez, Red Ruffing, Monte Pearson and some of the others should falter—as several did last season with their ailing arms and other miseries—Grissom might be more important than he appears to be at the moment.

The Yankees got a closeup of him in the third game of the World Series, when his relief pitching in the fifth inning stopped a barrage that had netted seven runs against Gene Thompson.

Grissom has been and is erratic, but a pretty good workhorse day in and day out and game in the clutch.

At any rate, the Yankees seem convinced that they can find use for him and, it might be pointed out, the Yankees make few, if any, mistakes.

3-STAR SPECIAL! New BATTERY Fresh OIL CHANGE Four LUBRICATIONS

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 4.—While the response has not been all that was hoped for, the American League has asked its seven other clubs to help out the tail-ending St. Louis Browns next season by trading surplus player material to the team, Will Harbridge, league president, revealed today.

In Philadelphia to attend a preview of "Touching All Bases," the circuit's new motion picture, Harbridge said that the league's appeal for the Browns has been made to keep the 1940 pennant race from becoming lop-sided.

RADCLIFF'S APPEAL AGAINST OUSTER DELAYED UNTIL NEXT WEEK

CHANCE TO PLAN DEFENSE ASKED BY PATROLMAN

Ousted Night Officer Late For Hearing By Half Hour Wednesday

MONDAY AT 7 FIXED Safety Director's Counsel Opposes Date Change Before Commission

Hearing of the appeal of Carl Radcliff, former night patrolman, against his removal from the police department last December 1, was postponed Wednesday by the Civil Service Commission until Monday, January 8, at 7 p. m.

The postponement was granted by the commission on the request of Mr. Radcliff. Although the hearing was scheduled for 1 p. m., Mr. Radcliff did not appear until about 1:30 o'clock. He submitted a brief request to the commission asking postponement until Thursday, January 11.

"I request this continuance due to the fact I have been unable within the time allotted to prepare my defense," his application stated. He was not accompanied by counsel. The commissioners, including James Wickensmeyer, chairman; Harry Bartholomew, secretary; and Joseph Brink, considered the application for about an hour before announcing their decision. When it was announced by Mr. Bartholomew he said it was the unanimous decision of the board.

Carl C. Leist, attorney for Carl Radcliff, safety director, objected to the continuance contending that Radcliff had had at least 30 days in which to prepare his defense and he could see no reason for asking continuance a half hour after the time the hearing was scheduled to start. Fifteen witnesses called by Mr. Leist were notified by the commission to return at a later date.

Seven charges were listed by Mr. Herrmann in the removal order given Mr. Radcliff. The former patrolman filed an explanation of the charges with the safety director but they were held insufficient. An appeal was then made. No list of witnesses for Mr. Radcliff has been filed with the commission.

FORD GOES TO JAIL

Arthur J. Ford, 42, West Mound Street, was committed to the county jail Wednesday by Mayor W. B. Cady when he failed to pay a fine of $100 and costs on a charge of driving when intoxicated in East Main Street.

COUNCIL APPROVES AID FOR SAFETY DIRECTOR

An ordinance providing for Carl J. Herrmann, safety director, to employ counsel to represent him in the hearing before the Civil Service Commission on the removal of Carl Radcliff as a night patrolman was passed by council Wednesday night under suspension of rules. Carl C. Leist, former city solicitor, will represent Mr. Herrmann. The ordinance provided that the attorney employed is not to be paid more than $50.

COUNCIL NAMES NICHOLAS CLERK FOR NEXT TERM

Organization meeting of city council was held Wednesday night when members were sworn in by John C. Goeller, president, and then renamed Fred R. Nicholas as clerk. Mr. Nicholas was then sworn in as clerk by Mr. Goeller. Julius Helwage, who has served as president pro tem of council, was renamed to the position.

Council committee will remain the same as during the last year, Mr. Goeller announced, with George G. Groom, new Third Ward councilman, filling the committee positions formerly held by John Neuding. Mr. Groom is chairman of the health committee.

Mr. Groom and William M. Reid were appointed by councilmen as members of the firemen's pension board for 1940. Two other members will be named by firemen. In addition a citizen will be named by the two councilmen on the board and one by the two firemen on the board.

CITY TO BUY NEW TRUCK

Council passed an ordinance under suspension of rules Wednesday night authorizing the director of public service to advertise for bids for a new dump truck for the service department. An ordinance was passed some weeks ago for the new truck but a change in specifications was made requiring new legislation.

PLUMBING CODE GAINS SUPPORT

Marion Appears To Urge Councilmen To Act; Committee Named

Plumbing and building codes for Circleville are again up for consideration by city council.

Frank Marion, Circleville plumber and former councilman, urged the city dads to pass a plumbing code. "In all the cities where I have worked I have never found plumbing codes abused like they are in Circleville," he said. "We build a disposal plant to clean up the river but we have done nothing to protect the homes of our people." Various councilmen expressed the need both plumbing and building codes.

The codes have been considered for some time but no steps were taken toward their establishment.

The codes were referred to a committee of all council members with Ben Gordon as chairman. The committee will work with Joseph Adkins, Jr., city solicitor, on the preparation of the codes.

SNOW PREVENTS FLIGHT OF TWO CONVICTED BOYS

COLUMBUS, Jan. 4.—Two 16-year-old boys awaited transfer to the Boys' Industrial School at Lancaster today after their escape attempt was foiled by their tracks in the snow.

The boys, handcuffed together, ran from a deputy sheriff as they left the court house. However, their tracks led to a parking lot, where they were found huddled under a parked car.

"We had nothing to lose in trying to get away," the boys told their captors.

GREEN CHANGES CAPITAL CITY'S TRAFFIC LIGHTS

COLUMBUS, Jan. 4.—"Tried and found wanting" was the verdict today on the "long count" system of traffic light timing in Columbus.

After several months experimentation with the 70-second cycle of timing, Mayor Floyd F. Green decided to return to the former timing of 45 seconds between changes.

The 70-second cycle was expected to speed traffic but failed in its purpose, Green said he was informed by the city engineer. The old system, Green said he was informed by the city engineer. The old system, to be reinstated, changes all traffic controls simultaneously, at 45 second intervals, with red and green interchanging on alternate corners.

POPE CHOOSES SUCCESSOR FOR LATE MUNDELEIN

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—The Most Rev. Samuel A. Stritch, archbishop of Milwaukee, has been appointed archbishop of Chicago, the apostolic delegate announced today on receipt of advices from Rome. The Most Rev. Moses E. Kiley, bishop of Trenton, will succeed Archbishop Stritch as archbishop of Milwaukee.

Archbishop Stritch succeeds the late Cardinal Mundelein as archbishop of Chicago.

Born in Nashville, Tenn., August 17, 1887, he long has been held in high regard by his fellow churchmen. Last November he was elected chairman of the administrative board of National Catholic Welfare Conference.

STOVE GAS EXPLODES

Firemen were called to the home of Claude Wells, 309 Watt Street, at 2:20 p. m. Wednesday when gas in a coal heating stove exploded. There was no damage.

JENKINS GIVES UP PRISON JOB

Possibility Of New Post Asked; Amrine Expected To Get London Office

COLUMBUS, Jan. 4.—Permanent appointment of William F. Amrine as superintendent of the London prison farm to succeed Thomas C. Jenkins was expected to be made today by Welfare Director Charles L. Sherwood.

Jenkins relinquished his superintendency—a position he had filled for five years—after being under fire for the last four months. Removal charges "for disciplinary reasons" were filed with the civil service commission when Jenkins refused to resign.

Jenkins' announcement, which he did not term a resignation, read: "The end of my 30-day suspension is at hand and I find that my physical condition is such that I cannot report for duty at the London Prison Farm."

Sherwood said he would give "serious consideration" to Jenkins' request for a transfer to another job, but that no position was immediately available. He pointed out, however, that Jenkins would remain on the civil service lists for a year and that a position "might become available."

Jenkins, a state employee since 1905, has been criticized severely since a wave of escapes last spring.

WPA ROAD JOBS TO GIVE ATHENS RELIEFERS WORK

COLUMBUS, Jan. 4.—WPA officials today were expected to approve four highway projects which will give employment to 400 men for four months in Athens County, hard hit by a relief financial crisis. Work will be started in about a week, said WPA officials. Cost of the projects, about $142,000, will be shared by the WPA and the state highway department.

TWO LUTHERAN LEADERS SCORE F. D. R.'S MOVE

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—President Roosevelt's recent appointment of Myron C. Taylor as his personal representative to the Vatican to work for peace with Pope Pius XII was criticized as "un-American" today in a joint statement by the presidents of two of the largest Lutheran organizations in the United States.

The protest, prepared by Rev. Frederick H. Knobel, president of the United States Lutheran Church, and Rev. Dr. Emanuel Poppen, president of the American Lutheran Church, will be released to the 5,200 pastors of the two organizations which claim a half of all Lutherans in this country, it was stated.

HEALTH LEAGUE MAY CUT ACTIVITIES IN NEXT YEAR

Returns from the sale of Christmas Seals received so far fall short of the amount needed to carry out necessary work next year, W. T. Ulm, treasurer of the Pickaway County Public Health League, announced Thursday. Tuberculosis is still a serious community problem, Mr. Ulm said, and unless a sufficient amount to meet current needs is realized the program for 1940 must be curtailed.

"It is a source of satisfaction to the committee in charge to announce that the response has evidenced whole-hearted cooperation in this enterprise, which is part and parcel of our community life. In many instances, however, no word has been heard from approximately one third persons."

"Many who have been unable to buy seals this year have returned them with notes of explanation in which they promise to help as soon as financial conditions are better. Those who have not sent in money for Christmas Seals are urged to do so at once; those who cannot are asked to help the committee complete its work by returning their seals."
